

Antonina Mazara

amazara@irvapp.it

Current Position

Junior Researcher

Research Institute for the Evaluation of Public Policies (FBK-IRVAPP), Trento
March 2025 – present

Research Interests

Education • Social Inequalities • Upward mobility • Migration • Wellbeing • RCTs

Education

Double Master's Degree in Sociology and Social Research and in Sociology: Policy and Societal Development

University of Trento & Tilburg University
September 2022 – February 2025

Thesis: Exploring the Link Between Local Attachment and EU Identity: The Role of Years of Euro Currency and the Globalization Index

Bachelor's Degree in International Studies – Politics and International Organizations curriculum

University of Trento
March 2022

Thesis: The Foreigner in the Roman Empire and the European Union: In Search of Some Analogies

Professional Experience

Internship as researcher assistant

FBK-IRVAPP – Trento

October 2024 – January 2025

- Supported the WILL-TO project with descriptive data analysis and statistical summaries.
- Contributed to writing a section of the interim report for the project.

CATI Interviewer

University of Trento

November 2024 – December 2024

- Conducted standardized telephone interviews using computer-assisted techniques (CATI) as part of the fieldwork for the WILL project, a randomized evaluation targeting educational outcomes

Languages and Technical Skills

Languages: Italian (native), English (fluent, C1 level), Spanish (intermediate, B1 level)

German (basic, A2 level)

Software: Stata (advanced), R (basic), MS Word, Excel, PowerPoint (advanced), LimeSurvey (competent)

Courses and Training

Public Policy Impact Assessment – Online Course

FBK-IRVAPP

Volunteer experience

Volunteer Team Member – Marketing Sector

AIIESEC in Italy (Trento Committee)

February 2018 – July 2018